

Interpol, Renegade Hearts

Draw me a million years
And I'll probably make them my home
Eternity brought me tears
But it's the cold I collect on my own

Call me for sake of change
It's a custom how gluttons do
Infinity will turn the page
But not forever
Not for you

The serpent spins
Around the silken cyclone
The world will bend
For one alone again
For one alone

Call me from any age
And hope the godly will help to steer
Subliminal we turn the page
But you can't save the programmable fear

The serpent spins
Around the silken cyclone
The world will bend
For one alone again
For one alone

No no no
No no no

Out on the wing we go
It's starting to feel like summer
Out on the wind where some
Will get stolen

But not forever

The serpent spins
Around the silken cyclone
The world will bend
For one alone again
For one alone

Roll up the window
You might get stolen
Roll up the window
You might get stolen
You might get stolen
Might get stolen

Met a girl then
One who'd stand by me

Renegade hearts
Make escape art
Renegade hearts
Make escape art
Renegade hearts
Make escape art
(Caught me off guard)

Met a girl then
Said she'd stand by me

(Caught me off guard)
Renegade hearts
Make escape art
(Caught me off guard)
Renegade hearts
Make escape art
Renegade hearts
Make escape art

Met a girl
