

Intronaut, Deep Architecture

Here at the nucleus of it all
The motive gathers steam
The pistons begin to fire
And light slowly illumines
It's worked itself into a lather
Full speed ahead
The unstoppable force that suddenly
Hits the immovable object
Only this time there is no coy answer in science
At this perfect moment
We must start anew
And hope for the best
The engineer starts again
The steel buckles
Creation is undone
Stopped in its tracking
Truly profound. Deep Architecture
