

Iron Savior, Last Hero

Born in the golden age
Chosen by the gods to be the one
Hero of the heros
Guardian and protector of man
Man and the universe

But in the tales of the bold
It has been Said
He will demise
To the realm of the dead
And on that very day
The kingdom will fall
Lost in the seas forevermore

And when the last - last hero will die
Tears of the gods
Will be falling from the skies
Forevermore he shall rest in peace
Until the day he will return
Like it's been said
Fulfilling the prophecy
And the rise up from the dead

Sheer invincible
Superior but yet of flesh and blood
Altered and enhanced
He stood the test of time
To safeguard the world
Man and the universe

But in the prophecy of yore
It's been foretold
Treason shall kill
The last of the bold
Lost and forgotten
The fires will burn
Until the day he shall return

And when the last - last hero will die
Tears of the gods
Will be falling from the skies
Forevermore he shall rest in peace
Until the day he will return
Like it's been said
Fulfilling the prophecy
And the rise up from the dead

It has been Said
He will return
From the realm of the dead
Until that very day
The fires will burn
For the day of his return

And when the last - last hero will die
Tears of the gods
Will be falling from the skies
Until the day he will return
Like it's been said
