

Iron Savior, Touching The Rainbow

Nowhere to run you're out of control The darkness came over you it has blackened your soul your eyes're burning red as bright as the rising sun seems there is nothing no way to overcome your grief!

Lost in a world of misery and despair try to deny it but the pain is always there

Inside your walls of sorrow you cannot see tomorrow

Touching the rainbow
fly up and away
Escape from the shadow
the night's always followed by day Nothing's forever - forever in life Raise your head - look up to the sky Your wings have been burned but still you can learn how to fly fly again

You say you can't stand it you can't take it anymore Do not surrender it's yourself you're fighting for Broken and wounded in the grip of agony Stand up - and make a change or is this what you wanna be

Break through your walls of sorrow and you will see tomorrow

Touching the rainbow

Within the walls
the walls of sorrow
you cannot see tomorrow
Tear down the walls
the walls of sorrow

the night's always followed by day Come with me and you will see spread your wings and fly

Touching the rainbow
There's a land up in the sky take my hand and fly Fly again
