

Isobel Campbell, Johnny Come Home

Johnny, I'm alone and I'm feeling blue now you're grazing on pastures new cut the cord and we let it go a nightingale flying, high and on its own when you coming home?

words came, violently filling up the room lovers have their own private mood to taste the honey, we must taste blood the poison nectar
and if we were on fire
why we grow so tired?

da-badaba-da-da-da-badaba
da-badaba-da-da-da-badaba
da-badaba-da-da-da-badaba

now you're lazing on pastures new lost my devil and lost my saint waiting's like dying...

if you are alone
darling, come back home da-badaba-da-ba-da-badaba
