

Ivy, Hideaway

All gone.
The sun is off to bed.
The day's done
So rest your head.
We'll fly to a place across the bay.
Outside, where it's dark and grey

We'll hide away
Under silver waves.
We'll lie awake.
Under a silver sky we'll hide away.

So long.
The night is closing in.
Everyone is alone again
We're going on a midnight ride
Under stars and satellites,
A thousand miles
From where we've been.

We'll hide away
Under silver waves.
We'll lie awake.
Under a silver sky we'll hide away.
