

Jaci Velasquez, Now It's Crystal Clear

When I'm a sparrow in winter
You are the seed I find
When I'm a heart with a splinter
Your whole blood keeps me alive
If I could call you a color
You'd be the deepest of blues
If I had my pleasure of anything
You'd be the one that I choose
Now it's crystal clear I'm falling for you
Now that I can see the mysteries revealed
Now I'm coming clean, I can feel my feels released
Now it's crystal clear I'm falling for you
I'm soft, like clay your hands they mold me
For you, I would run away
Just to hear you calling out my name
Now it's crystal clear I'm falling for you
Now that I can see the mysteries revealed
Now I'm coming clean, I can feel my feels released
Now it's crystal clear I'm falling for you
I'm broken and empty, without you, i'm blinded
I need you, I need you near me
I need you near me
Ohh...
I'm falling
Now it's crystal clear I'm falling for you
Now that I can see the mysteries revealed
Now I'm coming clean I can feel my feels released
Now it's crystal clear I'm falling for you
Please catch me I'm falling for you
Please catch me I'm falling for you
Please catch me I'm falling for you
Please catch me I'm falling for you
