

Jaci Velasquez, Something Beautiful

To pick up the pieces
Of all my promises
I might as well say I'm good enough
Only when failing
In need of saving
Can I surrender my life to yours

When it's all said and done
Let this be real
This strength from above
I hope they see

Something beautiful
Something wonderful
You are supernatural
The way You change my life
To something beautiful

I've taken chances
I've tried out romances
I want to breath in
All You've given me
Stepping out means I'm
Tripping and falling
Your loving hand would never let me
Let me hit the floor

When it's all said and done
Let this be real
This strengt from above
I hope they see
