Jaci Velasquez, Something Beautiful

To pick up the pieces
Of all my promises
I might as well say I'm good enough
Only when failing
In need of saving
Can I surrender my life to yours

When it's all said and done Let this be real This strength from above I hope they see

Something beautiful Something wonderful You are supernatural The way You change my life To something beautiful

I've taken chances
I've tried out romances
I want to breath in
All You've given me
Stepping out means I'm Tripping and falling
Your loving hand would never let me
Let me hit the floor

When it's all said and done Let this be real This strengt from above I hope they see