

Jaci Velasquez, Sweet Surrender

It's not a mysterious wind, and
It's not the thunder willing in
It's the spirit that I feel within that's calling
I understand but I can't explain
Now I see love in a different way
And with the sing I'll lead the faith
I'm falling
Into Your loving arms
Showing no resistance
There's a peace that flows over me
Sweet surrender
Love me tender
You have captured my desire and heart completely
Sweet surrender
Yours forever
I will gladly give my all to You
Receive me
Oh Lord I am Yours
Your love of us has no escape
But I don't feel the need to run away
My heart has found a place to stay here with You
Nothing else could satisfy
The deep void that I had inside
From all the multiple battles I had lived through
Now here in Your loving arms
I have gone the distance
I will rest my soul in Your embrace
Sweet surrender
Love me tender
You have captured my desire and heart completely
Sweet surrender
Yours forever
I will gladly give my all to You
Receive me
'Cause I have gone the distance
I will rest my soul in Your embrace
Sweet surrender
Love me tender
You have captured my desire and heart completely
Oh Lord I am Yours
Oh Lord I am Yours
