

Jack Blanchard & Misty Morgan, Safe Harbor

My ship of life sailed stormy seas
Tossed and turned with every breeze
But I found safe harbor in your love

Let the winds of time turn bitter cold
On sails are torn and growin' old
I found safe harbor in your love

Just breathe your love to me
Let me feel it soft and warm
And I can weather any storm

If my ship is lost on waves of foam
Just shine your light and guide me home
I found safe harbor in your love

Just breathe your love to me
Let me feel it soft and warm
And I can weather any storm

If my ship is lost on waves of foam
Just shine your light and guide me home
I found safe harbor in your love
