Jack Bruce, Blues You Can't Lose

Some they march while some stand still Some they die while others live Some they laugh while some they cry Some hang on while some pass by

Some are high and some are low Some are sure and some don't know Some are weak and some are strong Some are here and some are gone

With all these things In a poor man's mind He gotta have the blues He can't leave behind

With all these things In a poor man's mind He gotta have the blues He can't leave behind
