

Jack Greene, Always Remember

Always remember I love you I love you only you
Always remember your whole life through I love you just you
A million miles away from me we're never far apart cause you're always in my heart
So always remember I love you I love you just you
Always remember your whole life through I love you just you
A million miles away from me we're never far apart cause you're always in my heart
So always remember I love you I love you just you I love you
