

Jack Greene, I'm Afraid I Lied

I know I told you I could take it if you had to tell me goodbye
But you're leavin' and I don't think I can make it forgive me but I'm afraid I lied
I am thankful for each stolen moment and I promised that I wouldn't cry
But you're leavin' and there goes my promise forgive me but I'm afraid I lied
We both knew it couldn't work out but we just had to try it both sides
We said anytime we could stop it well baby you can but but I'm afraid I lied I lied
