

Jack Greene, I Turn My Mind On You

I knew the day you turned away I'd never get over you
I've found someone to take your place I've known that she won't do
She's like you in so many ways it hurts me through and through
And every time she turns to me I turn my mind on you
She gives me so much love I should forget but I know I never will
She holds me till I fall asleep and that's when my mind is still
She turns to me to love her but somehow I never do
For every time she turns to me I turn my mind on you [steel]
She gives me so much love...
Every time she turns to me I turn my mind on you
