

Jack Greene, Our Chain Of Love

[Both]

When the chain of love is broken its pieces scattered all around
In the hasty search for reason sometimes a link cannot be found
I say you're wrong you say it's my fault you saw it commit all alone
We've lost the link of understanding our chain of love can't last long
This chain of love we piece together with the link of understanding gone
The link of patience must work over time our chain of love can't last long

[steel]

It seems so unfair this should happen two hearts are forced to live alone
But the chain's no stronger than its weakest link and our chain of love can't last long
This chain of love we piece together...
Our chain of love can't last long