Jack Johnson, Breakdown

I hope this old train breaks down then I could take a walk around and, see what there is to see time is just a melody With all the people in the street walking as fast as their feet can take them I just roll through town And though my windows got a view Well the frame im looking through seems to have no concern for me now so for now I

I need this old train to breakdown oh please just let me please breakdown

Well this engine screams out loud Saying this beat gonna crawl westbound so I dont even make a sound Because its gunna sting me when I leave this town
And all the people in the street that i'll never get to meet if these tracks dont bend somehow and I got no time that I got to get to where I dont need to be So I

I need this old train to breakdown oh please just let me please breakdown

I need this old train to breakdown oh please just let me please breakdown

I want to break on down but I cant stop now let me break on down

But you cant stop nothing if you got no control of the thoughts in your mind that you kept and you know you dont know nothing but you dont need to know the wisdoms in the trees not the glass windows You cant stop wishing If you dont let go of the things that you find and you lose, and you know you keep on rolling put the moment on hold the frames too bright so put the blinds down low

I need this old train to breakdown oh please just let me please breakdown I need this old train to breakdown oh please just let me please breakdown I got to break on down but I cant stop now
