

Jack Johnson, Situations

Situation number one:

It's the one that's just begun,
But evidently it's too late.

Situation number two:

It's the only chance for you;
It's controlled by denizens of hate.

Situation number three:

It's the one that no one sees;
It's all too often dismissed as fate.

Situation number four:

The one that left you wanting more,
It tantalized you with its bait.
