

Jack Russell, Roll With The Tide

there's a secret i've been keeping to myself 'cause i'm my only friend let me tell you love's just a dancer and when her dance is done you start from the end my friend i keep my heart inside my pocket i'd save it for a rainy day if i could but i know that love's a dancer dancing slow she makes you feel so good my friend so take a chance and roll with the tide
so take a chance and roll with the tide
love is dancing on the other side of the night tonight tonight seems so many times i've fallen tonight i'm falling time and again when love dances in the light leave you longing on the wind my friend
so take a chance and roll with the tide
so take a chance and roll with the tide
love is dancing on the other side of the night tonight tonight today's the day love will find a way before it's too late when you feel your heart is calling relax the tide will take you again when you find that someone lay your fears on the wind and roll with the tide just roll with the tide love is the other side
so take a chance and roll with the tide
so take a chance and roll with the tide love is dancing on the other side of the night tonight
so take a chance and roll with the tide
so take a chance and roll with the tide love is dancing on the other side roll with the tide just roll with the tide love is dancing on the other side take a chance roll with the tide just roll with the tide baby and i'll be dancing on the other side of the night got to roll with the tide just roll with the tide dancing on the other side love is the other side
