

Jack's Broken Heart, Against Forgetting

the lesson has been learned we'll take the spring over this fall and when it's not getting better, it's time to grow older.

never forgetting, anything we try to hold on to why it began will we survive through this crush or will we lose touch, lose sight and just give in.

please don't give in ready or not the years will pass will you know what to do when it sneaks up on you they tell you don't pretend tell them why it began don't expect them to understand but expect to tell it all again.
