

Jack's Broken Heart, Ardath West

so this town used to be our town, and now that you're not around the city is changing the streets are rearranging and 5 a.m. will never be the same

it used to be, us against everyone but now you wish to be forgotten and i'll give that to you but please tell me the truth do you know what you're throwing away?

we owned it all from the ocean to the stars this damn town was rightfully ours so go ahead and give yourself away just leave today you were always so undeserving does this town have to feel so lonely

and now that you're not around everything is hard to see was this even meant to be will these streets ever feel the same?

it used to be, us against everyone but now i'm trying to forget you.

maybe someday i'll find someone to share this town with me someday.
