

Jackie Greene, Honey I Been Thinking About You

Well I aint interested in the clothes that you wear in the car that you drive or the cut of your hair honey, you got something that i can't compare and i've been thinking about you

And I don't really care about the weather outside and i don't want to talk about national pride all that I need for to be satisfied is a woman who's nothing like me love is for fools, yes a fool such as i and i can't tell you how and i can't tell you why ah but honey I just can't deny you at all

Oh and I don't want to be your two-weekend lover your boy-in-the-bag, your one-or-the-other and I ain't looking for a wife or a mother but honey i've been thinking about you well maybe you're wrong and maybe you're right and maybe we could sit here and argue all night but maybe you just better turn out the lights cause honey i've been thinking about you honey i've been thinking about you for a while and it's driving me mad, yes it's cramping my style and i aint asking you to walk down the aisle, but I...

Suitcase to staircase, to candelit room where i sift throught the silk in the air and perfume and i'll be loving you baby, i'll be loving you soon cause honey i've been thinking about you now i don't really care about your hot-blooded sister i'm sure theres a man for to love her and miss her i didn't mean nothing, i just happened to kiss her but honey i was thinking about you

I don't really care about your daddy's corvette your house in the hills or your pink private jet or that ring on your finger you say you regret cause honey, i've been thinking about you rat race to car chase to trains in the station everyone wants to change their location everyone wants some new inspiration but i can't stop thinking about you
