

Jackie Lomax, Everybody - Nobody

Everybody knows ' nobody cares
Nobody cries
Everybody looks ' nobody sees
No-one will open their eyes
Everybody runs ' nobody wanna help
Left with an empty heart

And both of us thinking we're better
Than anything else on this earth
If we could just live to the letter
We could maybe find out what it's worth
What it's worth

Everybody waits ' nobody's ever in
No-one to answer the phone
And everybody wants ' nobody wants to give
You're taking more than your share
Everybody lies ' nobody speaks
No-one to tell the truth

Everybody knows, everybody looks
Everybody runs, everybody waits
Everybody wants, everybody lies
And in the end, everybody dies
Without even living
