

Jackie Lomax, Give All You've Got

Man who waits is a man who don't go
Man who hesitates is a man who don't know
Man who lies, now, he don't live
Man who cries is a man who don't give

So don't be silly, give all you've got

Man who runs is a man who can't walk
Man who shouts ain't quite learned to talk
Man who begs, now, he can't ask
Man who grabs is a man who can't grasp

So don't be silly, give all you've got

Man who fails is a man who don't learn
Man in jail don't pay no tax return
Man in bed, now, he's too late
Man who's dead don't get no joy rebate

So don't be silly, give all you've got