Jackie Lomax, Give All You've Got

Man who waits is a man who don't go Man who hesitates is a man who don't know Man who lies, now, he don't live Man who cries is a man who don't give

So don't be silly, give all you've got

Man who runs is a man who can't walk Man who shouts ain't quite learned to talk Man who begs, now, he can't ask Man who grabs is a man who can't grasp

So don't be silly, give all you've got

Man who fails is a man who don't learn Man in jail don't pay no tax return Man in bed, now, he's too late Man who's dead don't get no joy rebate

So don't be silly, give all you've got