

Jackie Lomax, Going Back To Liverpool

Going back to Liverpool
The people here you know they act too cool
I've been lifted up, I've been hammered down
And I'm sick of being kicked around
I'm going back to Liverpool

Going back to ease my head
Got to take a break before I'm dead
I'm going to watch the seagulls fly
And drag these teardrops from my eye
I'm going back to Liverpool

I know that I should never be like this
I should stay and fight and try to win
But I've been hurt so very badly
And all of my new-found friends never seem to be in
I've been hurt
I've been hurt
And I'm going back to Liverpool

Going back to where I'll see
The people who don't bother me
If I can grab just a few days rest
It might ease these heartaches in my chest
I'm going back to Liverpool
I'm going back to Liverpool

I got my ticket and I'm going back to Liverpool
