

Jackie Lomax, Sunset

Sunset in slow, no place to go
Just sitting home and I'm dreaming
The shade of our love that I'm thinking of
Like the sun above, is now fading
And I feel like I'm dead
There's a pain here in my head
Oh and I've never never never felt so all alone

And now you see, now that I'm free
Don't want to be on my own
The love that we had, now turning bad
Is now clad in sunset
And I feel like I'm dead
There's a pain here in my head
And I've never never never felt so all alone

And I feel like I'm dead
There's a pain in my head
And I've never never never felt so all alone

Well now I hear people say, well that's the way
Happens every day, son, you ain't no exception
Well now it's all right for them, they'll love again
They're going to find their own direction
But me, I feel like I'm dead
There's a pain in my head
And I've never never never felt so alone
And I've never felt so alone
