Jackson United, Fell Into

Do what you want Do what you please Take everything Bleed with me

Here, dry your eyes Let me pacify While you justify Bleach white the lies

Fell into a better vision of you You used to be in love with your ego Lay where you fell A little slip of your will You think you do but you don't know

Do what you want Do what you please Take everything Bleed with me

Fell into a better vision of you You used to be in love with your ego Lay where you fell A little slip of your will You think you do but you don't know
