

Jackson United, Sharp Edges

Well it should come as no surprise
Like a flame in this dead forest
Watch me burn before your eyes
Remember where I was before us

All shiny metal and sharper edges
My core is rotten
I'm broken pledges
Well we were waiting
So welcome home now
We kept your seat warm
While you were gone now

A temporary honesty
Truth is fleeting in most of me
Sorry gets me nowhere today

All shiny metal and sharper edges
My core is rotten
I'm broken pledges
Well we were waiting
So welcome home now
We kept your seat warm
While you were gone now

I can't explain why I'm here alone again
I can't contain unconscience yearning
Night just turned to a new day
Guilt it burns you away
Tonight just turned you away from me
