

Jacksons, Wait

How come you tell me that we have to get away?
But girl you can't be found
We'll dine in Paris on the Champs Elysees
Whenever you come around
There's been a breakdown, breakdown
Don't change your mind on me
Just take a little time
You say the finer things are worth waiting for Just gimme some kind of sign, baby.

CHORUS

I can't wait, (wait) wait for a hundred years
Can't hold back my tears any longer
no no
I can't wait, (wait) wait for a hundred years
Can't hold back me tears any longer no no oh woh

Sometimes I think of all the moments that we shared
I been waiting for so long
You know it hurts me every time you run and hide
I look up and now your gone
I been put down, weighed down
There's no tomorrow for me
We can't let love just fade away, baby

I can't wait, (wait) wait for a hundred years
Can't hold back my tears any longer
no no
I can't wait, (wait) wait for a hundred years
Can't hold back me tears any longer

Well, I've been longing for you deep inside
And I tell myself, baby, baby
If this love of ours will survive
Then let's take this chance
Together, together, baby
We'll know.

I can't wait, (wait) wait for a hundred years.
Can't hold back my tears any longer,
no no
I can't wait, (wait) wait for a hundred years.
Can't hold back me tears any longer,
Look here

You pushed my heart around
Tore me up inside
Made me feel so bad
You took away my pride

I keep waiting
Waiting for a hundred years
I can't hold back my tears
Any longer
I can't hold back my tears
Any longer
I can't hold back my tears baby
Any longer
I can't hold back my tears darling
Any longer
I can't hold back my tears baby

Any longer
