[Jadakiss] First things first When a nigga money aint right That makes things worst Now he's just breathing he can barely manage And he's way past starvin He's really famished His right-hand man is up north, that's hurtin em His cellphone bout to cut off, spring jerkin em And his baby moms startin to do her thing again She left him for a nigga pumpin e up in Binghamton If his money is right than maybe he can diss her But he can't, and niggas is breakin his little sister His pops just past His mom use to be an occasional sniffer Then she started fuckin with the gas Dude use to be a star back then He had the benz CL something But he just turned his car back in Mad carrots pawned all his rings Took this thing next thing I know Money pawned all his bling Now he just like everybody With the same old plans That cant get over the hump With the same old grams They was on the block making fun of him

Play the sideline and observe how a real nigga air it out

Play the sideline and observe how a real nigga air it out
When i come through clear it out
Play the sideline and observe

Me and B.I go man to man I know niggas with an asshole Full of parole that go hand in hand Fuck hot thats humidity And you cant mix money with stupidity Even though I get my coke from Columbia My cars from Germany And my guns from Sicily Nothin personal but I was raised different Hold my joint sideways so I blaze different Give it to anybody fuck an age difference From those in the world to those in the ca* Rub the kite on your chest and swallow the stamp At the end of the day they still gonna follow the champ It aint about being lyrical Cause when I get in the booth I make miracles and I aint stared at you But Im in tune with the hood so Im better than you
