

Jadon Lavik, Meant To Be

Look around what could i do
This place is unfamiliar and new
So i try to look beyond whats right in front of me
Hope to be found how could this be true
Comfort came and left in such a hurry
So then whats on the other side of this tragedy

You wake up to find that youre right where supposed to be
Trapped in uncertainty each days a mystery
You wake up to find that youre right where youre supposed to be
The past is unveiled and you see youre right where youre meant to be

Look behind oh how weve grown
All the places weve been
The places Ill never never go back again
If I had only known that all was not lost
It always comes around again round again round again
Patiently waiting just waiting til one day you find that youre right where supposed to be

Trapped in uncertainty each days a mystery
You wake up to find that youre right where youre supposed to be
The past is unveiled and you see youre right where youre meant to be

Now I see the reasons for all of those seasons wondering just how my life would connect
My life would connect but you knew all along all along

You wake up to find that youre right where youre supposed to be
Your hearts running wild and free each days a mystery

You wake up to find that youre right where youre supposed to be
Trapped in uncertainty each days a mystery
You wake up to find that youre right where youre supposed to be
The past is unveiled and you see youre right where youre meant to be
