

Jagged Edge, Questions

J.E ya'll

[Questions:]

No matter how confident we portray we are
In the back of our mind we all got something

[Verse 1:]

Can I do this
Can I do that
You ain't gotta dogg me
Girl I do enough of that
But the question is
Even with all of my gifts
Can you love me regardless girl
Without no turning back
The problem is that we all wanna know
Is there someone to love us even through the storm
Tears to make us weak, til we let it go
But you got to let it go or you'll never really know

[Chorus:]

Maybe I got too much to give
And maybe my love is too strong
And maybe I'll never have a women
Strong enough to understand who I really am
Maybe I got too much to give
And maybe the truth is I ain't shit
And maybe I'll never be committed as long as I am living
Trying to be a real man
Questions...yeah
The questions...yeah
The questions...yeah
The questions...(questions in my mind)

[Verse 2:]

I give all of me
And it's still not enough
And I'm just left to think that I will never have real love
Everything I know I have done for her
And she never even really thought it was too much
I just wanted to know if she will love me through the storm
Seems to make me weak to think you'll never be secure
You are always gon' be out here alone...
No matter what they say...you will always be alone...

[Chorus:]

Maybe I got too much to give
And maybe my love is too strong
And maybe I'll never have a women
Strong enough to understand who I really am
Maybe I got too much to give
And maybe the truth is I ain't shit
And maybe I'll never be committed as long as I am living
Trying to be a real man
Questions...yeah
The questions...yeah
The questions...yeah
The questions...(questions in my mind)

[Verse 3:]

Is there a girl to walk beside of me
This lonely walk
And if there's a girl who understands me
She knows what I really want

Is there a girl who is patient enough for the
The, the long haul
And why does everybody have these questions
In their minds like all the time
Cause I just need to know, need to know, oh ho
And somebody let me...

[Chorus:]

Maybe I got too much to give
And maybe my love is too strong
And maybe I'll never have a women
Strong enough to understand who I really am
Maybe I got too much to give
And maybe the truth is I ain't shit
And maybe I'll never be committed as long as I am living
Trying to be a real man
Questions...yeah
The questions...yeah
The questions...yeah
The questions...(questions in my mind)
