

Jahcoozi, Party Hard

... You'd think that the years would go by in order but it's overnight that one tends to get older, so party hard ... her mother had told her before she died leaving her a million dollars. even the hours don't go by in order on the days where there is no order deep down under water, the days will get shorter the sound under water believing, is that so wrong as the party drags on and on morning dawns, the bouncer yawns, he's dreaming of mowing his own back lawn
... You'd think that the years would go by in order
but it's overnight that one tends to get older,
so party hard ... her mother had told her
before she died leaving her ... a million dollars.
Its all about being a zillionaire Coz it just aint enough to be a millionaire Even a trillionaire, who's without a care Can end up stranded, stripped down to the bare So who's got the heir Boom got the heirloom Tryin to get to the moon it's time to save up for your diamond tomb ...
