

Jailbird, White Lines 23

Your evil side is taking over again Your torments and your fears are revolving around your actions
The dark side of your mind is nowhere to be found You are looking for answers, looking for a sign of life in this promised land But the logic of hate is still haunting you and the scholars are forgiving your words Since you became the seeker of light, this nucleon messiah implored at the cross that we are erecting in your name give us salvation Father !
