

James Bay, Easy Distraction

We used to jump the fence
Now we both think twice
We used to make up games
Now we just make nice
Lately I just can't tell you what I would give
Just to see you

I know that I've been distant and
Hard to trust
I know a place exists
that was made for us
I'm standing in the hallway nervous
Just to see you

Pull up at my place
Knock on my door
I'll say I'm sorry
You'll say what for
For letting this happen
For letting you go
You're all that I had
Now it's starting to show

I wanna say so much
Get to you so bad
I wanna claw my way
Back to what we had
I'll swallow all the pride I paraded
Just to see you

Pull up at my place
Knock on my door
I'll say I'm sorry
You'll say what for
For letting this happen
For letting you go
You're all that I had
Now it's starting to show

But I'm still in the hallway
Praying for time
For an easy distraction
To drown out my mind
Oh I let this happen
I let you go
You're all that I had
But now it's starting to show.
