

James Blake, Say What You Will

I've been normal
I've been ostracized
I've watched through a window
As my young self died

I've been popular with the popular guys
I gave them punchlines
They gave me warning signs
I look ok in the magic hour