

James Blunt, The Truth

it's a long lonely road that I've walked on my own never thought I'd end up in this place I went fast
I went slow then I gave up all hope cause I know either way it's the same and I am not trying to find somebody cause no one else but you will do yeah the real thing is gold how I wish I could hold you

I waste all of these days and nights trying to chase all these empty highs but I had to go to my worst so I'd know that I just needed you
