

James Strange Dream, Break Free

You stare at the ceiling
The sky's turning black
You're off in the distance
Will you ever come back?
Your body feels empty
You're left with a shell
But there's life pumping through you
That springs up from the well

Yes I am with you
To help see through the haze

You can break free from the dark
You've got to hang on to your hear
Don't let it take you away

You sink deeper and deeper
And you wish it would end
The room spins in circles
And your mind, it bends
You look to the heavens
And you ask: "Are you there?
Please help me, I'm bleeding
Just show me that you care"

Yes, He is with you
To help see through the haze

You can break free from the dark
You've got to hang on to your hear
Don't let it take you away
