

James Strange Dream, Rain On The Moon

How many days till I find the way
To get on my knees?
And how much sight till I see the light
That's right in front of me?
How many times must we see these crimes
Before we learn to love?
And how much pain till we go insane
From staying locked up inside?

And I can't take the truth of all the lies anymore
Is there no end in sight?
Have we lost the fight
To the war inside?

Oh Lord, help me learn to fly
I feel I'm drifting like rain on the moon
Oh Lord, help me learn to cry
I feel I'm drifting like rain on the moon
Like rain on the moon

Can I find a heart so kind
In this darkened shell?
I can't give in to this selfish sin
I need to rise above
How many hearts does it take to start
The healing within?
There's hope for all who hear the call
To the kingdom, yeah

And I can't take the truth of all the lies anymore
Is there no end in sight?
Have we lost the fight
To the war inside?

Oh Lord, help me learn to fly
I feel I'm drifting like rain on the moon
Oh Lord, help me learn to cry
I feel I'm drifting like rain on the moon
