

James Taylor, Love ballad

I have never been in so love In love, in love before What a difference her true love made in my life