

James Young, Something To Remember You By

I said you, you look kinda special,
You've got a face that could leave an impression anywhere
I said you, you know what you're doing
Stone cold eyes, you might be fooling them but you ain't fooling me
I know you, you tried to keep your distance
Acted so aloof but I know you're just a shy girl

It seems impossible
Just the two of us here together
You like to hide behind all your friends, well
Forget about them, forget about the weather and

Give me something to remember you by
I just want good time memories
Give me something to remember yo by
I just want good time memories

Don't try to figure me out
Just give me something to shout about
Give me something to remember you by

I've got my travel plans
You've got your reservations
But before we say good night
Use your imagination and

Give me something to remember you by...
