Jami Smith, Home

My heart fails My mind falters Sometimes my passion fades Sometimes my desires change Sometimes I turn my head and I look the other way

When I'm restless you are rest When I'm helpless you are help When I'm nervous you settle me When I'm empty you fill me When I've gone to far you gently bring me home 'Cause you are home

Home is where my history begins Home is where you delight in me Home is where your voice is in my ear Home is where you dance with me
