

Jamie O'Hara, Come Swim The Rivers With Me

Come swim the rivers with me,
We'll dive through the shadows and dreams.
Maybe all of our demons are simply,
Angels in disguise,
Waiting for us to show our courage,
And look them in the eye.

Come swim the rivers with me,
We'll glide through the current so deep.
Being safe is an illusion, baby,
Don't be afraid to let go.
There's unimaginable beauty waiting,
For you down below.

Come swim the rivers with me.

For millions of years, baby, we've been in love,
Circling through the universe above.
Travelling toward each other down through time,
Now the moment of flesh and bone has arrived.

Come swim the rivers with me.
Come swim the rivers with me.
Come swim the rivers with me.
