

Jamiroquai, Your Are My Love

Oh let me tell you a little story about a heartbreaker
Honey, I don't know why you treat me so bad
Well I tried so hard to make you see it my way
Just think of all the good times we had
But still you only ever want to fight with me

We got to split apart before we kill
And start to put our minds together
We got to change this hell for leather world
And I will find myself another girl
We got to put our weapons down
And spread a little love around

You know you are my love
Oh, yes you are, you are my love

Ain't you the girl who did me wrong behind my back
And tried to keep me double-booked
We never seem to cross the tracks
And there's so much that you overlooked about me girl
Remember, sat down pretty on the windowsill,
And made me swallow on your bitter pill
You thought the grass was greener over there
While serpents snaked around your hair
So pour a vitriolic coffee cup
And use your blackened heart to fill it up
Well now honey we got to put our weapons down
And spread a little love around

I want you girl, I need you so
Now we know that it's no secret
You are my love, you are my world
Light my shadows, fill the heavens with stars

You are my love, you are my lover
I need you, I want you
Don't let me go, I need you so
