

Jan Howard, Knowing You're Mine

Mhm mhm the greatest feeling in all of the world is simply knowing you're mine
Wherever I go and whatever I do always knowing you're mine
And when I close my eyes at night slumber comes easy
There's nothing to trouble my mind
The happiest way to greet each tomorrow is waking and knowing you're mine [steel]
Mhm mhm I've heard it said true love's made in heaven
I'm sure that's what happened this time
I thank the Lord for the peace and contentment of always knowing you're mine
So hold to my hand and let's walk on together wherever the long road may wind
I'll feel secure and serene and so lucky always knowing you're mine
Hmm knowing you're mine
