

Jan Howard, Love Is Like A Spinning Wheel

Love is like an ever spinning wheel round and round again round and round again
Though you'll finally find somebody new when love comes round again for you

Down the years many tears have been cried about love and devotion
Dry your tears love is just like the boat sailing over the ocean
Wheel of fortune keeps on turning love goes round like a carousel ride
Soon you'll find someone else by your side
Love is like an ever spinning wheel...
The wheel of fortune...
Love is like an ever spinning wheel...
