

Jan Howard, Missing You

Never knew what hurtin' was until today
Never thought that I could ever feel this way
Missing you missing you and only you what can I do missing you
In my dreams I feel you lying next to me
But the mornin' sun wakes up the loneliness in me
Missing you missing you and only you what can I do missing you
Was leavin' me easy to do was someone somewhere waiting for you
If this is what you wanted to do all I ask is a reason from you
Walking down the road tryin' to keep my soul from wanting you
But everywhere I look there's something new to remind me of you
Missing you missing you and only you what can I do missing you
What can I do missing you
