

Jan Howard, Saddest Part Of All

(Let me tell you the saddest part of all)
It was sad so sad when you left me and me thinking I stood so tall
Now you're gone and I should forget you
But I still love you and that's the saddest part of all
Well I cried oh how I cried when I saw you with her wrapped so tightly in you arms
But the way I cried then oh honey it can't hold the candle
To the way I'm cryin' now that you're gone
And the saddest part of all is that I take you back
And all you'd have to do is call
After all all the things you done to hurt me
I still love you and that's the saddest part of all
