

Jane, Look To You

There must be a reason why you're here there must be a part of this
That I can live in without fear
Oh well, what do you know
It's the same old scene
I think I make no sense then you say
You know what I mean

CHORUS

So I look to you
Cos for all I know you are tomorrow
Holding on today
And I look to you
With my hopes and dreams and fears and demons
Reason them away

Thought I heard somebody call my name
What's the source and what's the point
It only ends in pain
Oh well, what do you know
It's the same old scene
I think I make mistakes
You know what I mean

CHORUS

So I look to you
Cos for all I know you are tomorrow
Holding on today
And I look to you
With my hopes and dreams and fears and demons
Reason them away

Reason them away (repeat)
